At North Wales Fire and Rescue Service we are committed to fostering a diverse, inclusive, and equitable workplace where all employees feel valued and respected.

We believe that diversity in backgrounds, experiences, and ideas drives innovation and strengthens our ability to make North Wales a safer place to live, work and visit.

We are seeking exceptional leaders to join our Group Manager talent pool for future substantive appointments. The role of Group Manager is challenging and rewarding and requires an individual who embodies the highest standards of personal and professional integrity, and who can inspire confidence, trust, and respect across all levels of the organisation and the wider community.

Joining us means becoming part of a forward-thinking organisation where you can make a lasting impact, develop your leadership potential, and contribute to shaping the future of fire and rescue services in North Wales.

If this sounds like you, and you are ready to bring your leadership skills and passion for making a difference, we want to hear from you.

Our Cultural Journey

North Wales Fire and Rescue Services has recently published our final report of a commissioned Independent Cultural Review, facilitated by Crest Advisory. This marks a significant milestone in our ongoing commitment to fostering a supportive, inclusive and progressive workplace culture.

The review, initiated in response to the Welsh Government's endorsement of the fire and rescue services' cultural improvement proposals, assessed the progress made in creating positive workplace environments and identified opportunities for further development.

It represents the beginning of a new chapter in the cultural evolution of North Wales Fire and Rescue Service. By implementing these recommendations, the Service reaffirm their dedication to creating a workplace where every employee feels valued, heard and empowered, and to enhance the services provided to their communities.

We are seeking inspirational and enthusiastic leaders to join us on this journey and help drive meaningful change. If you are passionate about fostering a positive workplace culture and making a real impact, we encourage you to be part of this transformation.

Further information on the Independent Culture Review can be found here.

Applications

Applications are invited from substantive and competent Station Managers and existing Group Managers employed in a UK Local Authority Fire and Rescue Service.

Hours of Work and Availability

Your hours of work are based on the Flexi Duty System (FDS), which includes evenings and weekends. However, the sum of your weekly hours of positive and standby duty shall not exceed 78 hours per week on average.

The successful candidate will be required to work unsocial hours. The circumstances and the working arrangements are likely to involve extended periods of availability outside of normal office hours.

Location

The address for North Wales Fire and Rescue Service is Headquarters, Ffordd Salesbury, St Asaph Business Park, St Asaph, Denbighshire, LL17 0JJ.

You will be required to serve in any post appropriate to your rank competency level at any of the Service's premises situated in the North Wales area, as the Fire Authority may require at any time.

You are required to either reside or provide a base address within the boundaries of NWFRS area whilst undertaking on-call strategic cover. Your base must be within an acceptable travelling distance to allow for the proper performance of your duties.

Further information

For an informal discussion regarding this role, please contact Area Manager Mike Owen, Head of Response by email Mike.Owen@northwalesfire.gov.wales or phone 07717 516 189.

Who we are

North Wales Fire and Rescue Service employs more than 900 dedicated staff in both operational and corporate roles, working together to create a positive impact in the communities we serve.

We help safeguard a diverse and vibrant region, covering around 2,400 square miles of stunning landscapes that include picturesque coastlines, historic towns, and the rugged peaks of Snowdonia National Park. North Wales is home to over 700,000 residents and welcomes hundreds of thousands of visitors every year, drawn by its rich culture, heritage, and natural beauty.

Our team responds to around 108,000 calls annually, including approximately 17,000 emergency incidents. Alongside our emergency response, we are deeply committed to prevention and education. This includes visiting homes to provide fire safety advice, engaging with young people, collaborating with partners, and using traditional and social media to inform and support our communities.

We also play a crucial role in fire protection, working with local businesses and organisations to ensure they meet their responsibilities, protecting employees, customers, and premises alike.

North Wales is a region steeped in history and culture, where the Welsh language is an integral part of everyday life. As a service, we are proud to support and promote the use of Welsh and are committed to reflecting the rich diversity of our communities. Living and working here means enjoying a high quality of life, with excellent schools, vibrant cultural events, and unrivalled access to outdoor activities.

North Wales Fire and Rescue Service is a professional and welcoming organisation. We foster a supportive culture and uphold our core values, placing teamwork, respect, and integrity at the heart of everything we do.

Our Core Values

The Role

Living and working in North Wales offers an excellent environment for anyone seeking an enhanced quality of life. Long regarded as one of the most beautiful places in the UK, the area has much to offer, especially in terms of outdoor pursuits, cultural and leisure activities.

North Wales Fire and Rescue Service are seeking to identify suitable individuals for Group Manager (B) roles. The promotion board process enables successful applicants to be eligible for appointment within a 12-month period or until a new process commences. As per Grey Book terms and conditions the appointments are interchangeable with any other post of the same role within the Service. Applications are invited from substantive competent Station Managers and substantive Group Managers. (Existing internal Group Managers that wish to change their current role should submit an internal transfer request form, which will be considered as part of this process).

The successful candidates will work in an increasingly demanding and performance centred environment and applicants should therefore have a strong track record of achievement and be able to champion transformational leadership and demonstrate a commitment to excellence.

Candidates will be required to complete a full application form having read the guidance notes carefully in relation to providing evidence against all the essential criteria in the person specification. Candidates will be required to deliver a 20-minute presentation and answer questions in relation to the presentation delivered focusing on the requirements of the role. The presentation topic will be advised within the confirmation of shortlisting.

Welsh Language skills are a requirement of this post and ideally candidates will be able to demonstrate Level 3 Welsh on application, however, this is not an essential selection criterion and full support and training will be provided to successful candidates.

It is envisaged that interviews will be held over a number of days commencing from 7th April 2025. Please be advised that if candidates are unable to attend on the scheduled interview date, the Service may be able to make alternative arrangements.
